An Outcast State: Winner of the 2014 Dante Rossetti Award for YA Dystopian Nove By Scott D. Smith

Winner of the 2014 Dante Rossetti Award for Best Young Adult Dystopian Novel Will Corbin choose redemption or revenge? Corbin, a brilliant, aloof young loner, is a survivor determined to do the impossible – make his way across the country killing as many eaters as he can and maybe stumble across some clue to his parents' identities. But in all his years of searching, the only things he's managed to learn are to trust no one and to swing first and hard. He meets Molly rummaging through her parents' empty home and forges a friendship he has never known, as they fight the eaters and survivors who have lost all trace of humanity. Can Molly help him learn to trust again before she gets them both killed?

Editorial Review

About the Author

Scott Smith is a married father of two who has spent the last eight years teaching high school English. When not busy with his family or correcting everyone's grammar, he enjoys reading, hiking the beautiful trails and beaches of Hawaii, lurking the internet as @_scottwrites, and finding ways to avoid going to the gym. This is his first novel, which won the prestigious Dante Rossetti 2014 Award for best Young Adult Dystopian Fiction. His first published short story was published in the zombie romance anthology, Still Hungry for Your Love.
